Mentoring

By Jody Terrell, Youth Minister

---

It's great to be getting back in the regular swing of Fall programming. We had a great and busy summer, but it's always nice to get settled into a bit of a routine.

One new thing that we are trying to get started this Fall is mentoring. I believe that if the church is going to be strengthened in the coming years that mentoring has to be a huge part of that. I am encouraging all teens to be involved in a mentoring relationship with someone older while they in turn mentor younger kids.

I think that all of us should be in the same roles. We are never so advanced in our walk with Christ that we cannot give and receive instruction, correction, encouragement, love, and wisdom to our fellow brothers and sisters in Christ. I know that when I am part of a relationship like this, that I am more focused on Godly things and am more able to flee temptation and make more of a difference in this world. I would like to encourage everyone to consider how we might seek out these relationships to build one another up and spur one another on to good works which God prepared in advance for us to do.

Sunday Morning Sermon Series!

The third message in our series, "Gearin' Up," is coming this Sunday. Don't miss this Sunday! I promise something different and I promise you will say or think to yourself, "What's going on?" See you there. ~ Andy B.

We finish our look at Joseph's life in Genesis 42-45, where we discover that the famine spreads all the way to where Joseph's family lived. Jacob sends Joseph's brothers down to Egypt to get food where they end up in front of Joseph. After some back and forth, Joseph finally reveals his identity and forgives his brothers for how they treated him. Throughout his entire life, Joseph trusted God and realized that what his brothers intended for harm, God intended for good to help preserve their family.

Bottom Line: You can trust God no matter what. This is one of the basic truths of 252 Basics. Above all else, we want kids to realize that they can take God at His word. We see throughout the Bible that God is working on our behalf to rescue us. He sent Jesus to make a way for us to be with God forever. We pray kids put their faith in Him.
